OAKLAND MERCHANT BOOSTS US, 'SEE HAWAII' IS TIP TO FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Lavenson have returned from a five weeks' vacation spent in the Hawaiian Islands, and both are enthusiastic over their trip, says the Oakland (Cal.) Tribune. They made Waikiki beach their headquarters.

"Although we met many tourists from all parts of the world, there were few Californians," said Lavenson, "and I feel like boosting our island neighbor as a tourist resort, for the conditions are certainly ideally conducive to either the tourist or the one seeking a rest vacation. The idea of excessive hot weather prevailing on the Hawaiian Islands is an exploded one, for we found the climate delightful, and were told the maximum temperature is only 15 degrees more than the minimum—a small variation. "The combination of water and tropical growth is Hawaii's charm. Any time during the day or night one can take an ocean dip, as the temperature of the water is always the same warmth. The wonderful tropical plants and the foliage and flowering of some of the trees, the large variety of tropical fishes, having the resemblance more of a rare plant or exquisite foliage, their scales reflecting the iridescent brilliancy, the gorgeous sunsets, the hotel accommodations, all combine to make this Paradise of the Pacific a place to be sought by the tired business man rather than the sightseer.

"The hotel service on Waikiki beach is unsurpassed. The setting is a picture and everything has been provided for the comfort and delight of guests. The entire staff of servants is Japanese and we found them of a high degree of efficiency.

"Business conditions are somewhat disturbed on account of the gradual removal of tariff, but a readjustment has been promised by the president at the end of the year, should the absence of tariff prove a detriment to the planters. Of course, the depression has had its effect upon the municipality, and money is accordingly short. While the biggest planters make so much money as a rule that the effect cannot have as much weight with them as with the smaller planter, still it is a question, and time alone can answer it. On account of the strict quarantine on foreign fruits, made by reason of the dread Mediterranean fly and other pests, a careful watch is maintained on all contraband trees, and a diversity of crop planting is impossible. Therefore the revenue must be kept within the bounds of the pineapple, sugar and coconut industries.

"I think we ought to get acquainted with our neighbor and boost for the beautiful resort, for it is our own territory and we should help promote its resources and advantages by advertising them to all the world. It certainly comes under the sentiment implied in 'See America First.'

It's curious how a man likes to hear some other fellow's cash register jingle instead of trying to save up and get one of his own.

Telephone communication was cut off shortly after the attacks were commenced but the last dispatch sent over the wire was that Louisville was burning. The towns are all about 2000 in population. Efforts are being made to restore communication with the beleaguered cities.

REDUCTION IS SEEN IN THE AUSTRALIAN CUSTOMS REVENUE

(By Latest Mail)

MELBOURNE, Australia.—The federal treasurer, Sir John Forrest, in his budget forecast for the financial year to June 30, 1914, estimated a reduction in the customs revenue of £653,000 on the figures for the year 1912-1913. The actual decrease for the first seven months to Jan. 31 is £423,734, which is less by £44,882 than the decrease shown on Dec. 31. The revenue collector in the commonwealth through the customs department to Jan. 31 last amounted to £8,827,519 as compared with £9,251,253 for the corresponding seven months of the preceding year. Whilst the imports on merchandise during the 12 months to Dec. 31, 1913, show a decrease compared with the preceding year, the principal articles of Australian export have increased, wool amounting in round figures, to £26,500,000 sterling, being about the same as 1912. Wheat and flour were exported to the value of £10,000,000 sterling, or nearly £2,000,000 in excess of 1912. Exports of frozen meat amounted to £25,500,000 against £23,270,000 in 1912; butter to £3,500,000 against £3,300,000; and hides, sheepskins, and tallow together amounted to £6,250,000 against £4,500,000.

PINE PACKERS IN DARK AS TO THE SITUATION

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

Present Condition Will Possibly Prove Disastrous to the Small Growers

There is much that is not clear in connection with the pineapple industry. This does not apply alone to those outside of the business, but there are few, even among the packers who know the why and wherefore of many factors which seem to have a very direct bearing upon the present situation of apparent overproduction and of prices which possibly will mean the ruin of the small number of growers of the fruit, if not of some of the canning firms. Here is one of these cases in point:

The Hawaiian packers are today selling their product for something like $1.40 per dozen for No. 24 extra shield grade, as against about $2 a year ago. This price is lower than any California fruit of like grade, according to quotations lately made by the California Fruit Canners' association. No. 24 extra peaches, for instance, are quoted in San Francisco at from $1.55 to $1.75, according to variety. But the quotations in the Eastern markets do not show the same ratio.

According to the market reports of "The Canning Trade," under date of April 13, which are assumed to be authoritative, the prices for wholesale lots, at usual terms f. o. b. shipping station, and subject to usual discount for cash, are shown as follows in Baltimore, New York and Chicago respectively: California peaches—No. 24 Peaches, $1.80 $1.90 $1.85 Hawaiian Pineapple No. 24 Extra, 2.25 2.20 2.15 The questions which naturally occur are, why this difference in relative cost of the two fruits on the Pacific Coast and in the East; and why the very much higher selling price of pineapples to the wholesale trade in the East than in the West?

DISSATISFACTION IN CHINA NOW SAID TO BE WIDESPREAD

(By Latest Mail)

PEKING, China.—It looks very much as if the net were being gradually drawn closed around the dictator president of China. The menace lies in what is known as the White Wolf movement which is operating chiefly south of Peking.

It is impossible to say just what the strength of the organization behind the now noted bandit may be, but it is very certain that he has men at his command. They are moving always; plundering, attacking and at the same time advancing nearer and nearer to Peking. The men are armed, and feed on the country as they go.

The danger lies in the fact that the whole country is quite ripe for another revolution, as the discontent with Yuan is widespread. North of Peking the revolution against Yuan is stronger than it was at the time the movement was against the Manchus. This will be denied in many quarters, but it is true that south of the Yangtze Hsiao is ready to throw in his lot with any one who is calculated to win and who will pay in advance to change.

This factor is all the more formidable because Chang is looked upon with terror and his troops are probably better in a rough and tumble fight than even what Yuan may call his picked men.

Bears Important Message.

(By Latest Mail)

MANILA.—It is rumored here that Mr. Ferguson, secretary to the governor-general, who has gone to the states on leave, bears an important message from Governor-general Harrison to President Wilson, in which the governor-general recommends that, owing to insistent demands by the politicians here, either independence must be hastened or a much firmer stand be taken by the government in dealing with the Philippines situation.

Pansy Pyetlin says she is thankful for the moving picture because the auditorium is dark enough to let father dear throw back his head and laugh loud without being identified.
